Recording an Oral History

Directions: You are a reporter. Your task is to interview someone who has experienced or participated in a war or in some large group effort or witnessed a natural disaster. Write out your report. What kinds of questions would you ask? Record their responses. If you know someone in real life…use them. IF not, be creative with this assignment…find a willing partner with a creative imagination and use them to conduct your interview. Proper dialogue and punctuation are required.
